WHIM WHAMS

Some men court, then marry, then go to court again.The "fish wiggle" must be some dance. On with the "wiggle."When the women get on the police force men will go out of the way in order to get pinched.If nature had given all women a square deal, there never would have been any beauty parlors.It will soon be time of the year to read of people becoming overheated while selling ice cream cones.I don't sound exactly right, after borrowing a $10.00 note from a friend, to tell him that his kindness is so great that you can never repay it.An ordinary woman's waist is about thirty inches around. An ordinary man's arm is about thirty inches long. How admirable are thy works, oh nature!An exchange gives the warning to "watch your ten dollar bills." There are a lot of counterfeit ones about. The denomination of the bill is most too large to concern the editorial brethren.It is said that a Chavez county rancher died recently from a calf bite. If it had been a snake bite he would have undoubtedly had the antidote in his hip pocket.Probably the happiest man in the world is the one who has just invested in his first wedding ring.
But, however, what a difference after the first year.A story first heard at a mother's knee is seldom forgotten, and the same may be said of other things received at a mother's knee which will readily recur to the reader.An Alamogordo boy on returning home from a vaudeville show one night recently told his mother the girl in the show sang "In the pockets of my blue serge trousers, on the trail of a lonesome dime."It is reported that a shell from a British warship exploded in the vicinity of Deming early Sunday morning. So far the correspondent from that city has failed to make mention of the fact in the El Paso papers.In setting up a country correspondent a few weeks ago, the correspondent evidently got two of the items together as they read: "The reviled southerner. A cold snap and plenty of rain.""See how when you want your garden increased," goes an advertisement in an exchange. At this time of the year usually water runs low. "Hm." The only difference is, some have more than others.A morning N. M. weekly says "Miss Lillian Grayson fell on her backbone Sunday and broke her hip." While no sympathy with Lillian is far offhand, we would certainly be very careful in the future as to what she falls on.

We are told that there are a quarter of a million words in the English language, and we believe it too, for most of them were used last Sunday night by a woman who discovered after coming out of the local M. E. Church that her hat was adorned by a tag upon which was written "Reduced to $2.08."

When you want full and reliable information on any subject, always apply to a newspaper man, says a Quay county exchange. A farmer recently wrote to his local newspaper asking "what is the matter with my hens? Every morning I find two or three of them under the roost with their toes turned up."
The editor promptly replied:
"They're dead."

Last Sunday an Albuquerque father suggested to his daughter that she ought to go to church that evening, the subject of the discourse being "An Hour of Favor-it Hymns" and he expected it would be interesting. "Father," said the daughter with a smile, "I should like to go very much, but I have made an engagement to spend several hours with my favorite him tonight."

His darling was a typo fair, he was her lover true; said he, "you are the type for me, I'll always stick to you. I've had a chase, but now, my own, my take's revised, I quest; and now that love is justified, why let us go to press." The maiden hung her shapely head and whispered in his ear, while both cheeks were rosy red, "the form is ready dear."

Oh, dear to our hearts are the sad days of springtime, when the annual housecleaning recurs to our view, when we sleep on the sofa and eat off the mantle, in an atmosphere strongly suggestive of glue; we think of the stove-pipe, the soot that came from it and sweet expressions so fluent and fine, but the saddest and most bitter of all recollections is the dusty old carpet that hung on the line. Oh, that dusty old carpet, that rusty old carpet, that mossy old carpet that hung on the line.
We remember how, armed with a lithe flagelator in the morning we blithely advanced to the fray, in the muscular pride of our heart little dreaming, that cleaning that carpet would take the whole day; we sweated and we kicked and our hand badly blistered, while the sun lent his countenance warmly benign, but the harder we pounded the more it was needed by that
line! Oh, that dusty old carpet, that mossy old carpet, that rusty old carpet, that hung on the line.
